Passage - 1

Today, the nation-state faces multiple challenges arising from globalization, movements for regional autonomy, and internal ethnic conflicts. Yet its future is likely to lie not in disappearance, but in transformation. Such transformation would require several key shifts. First, nation-states must become more flexible and responsive to internal diversity by adopting federal or decentralized structures that accommodate varied identities and interests. Second, they must engage more actively in international cooperation, accepting calibrated limitations on sovereignty in return for enhanced collective capacity to address global challenges. Third, an emphasis on civic rather than ethnic nationalism can strengthen social cohesion and improve the state's ability to deliver value to its citizens. However, if the nation-state remains rigid and unresponsive to these evolving realities, it risks gradual obsolescence.

Q.50) Based on the above passage, which one of the following terms best expresses the goal of the modern nation state?
a) Decentralization of structures
b) International activism
c) Personal freedom

परिच्छेद - 1

आज, राष्ट्र-राज्य वैश्वीकरण, क्षेत्रीय स्वायत्तता के आंदोलनों और आंतरिक जातीय संघर्षों से उत्पन्न अनेक चुनौतियों का सामना कर रहा है। फिर भी इसका भविष्य समाप्त होने में नहीं, बल्कि रूपांतरण में निहित है। इस प्रकार के रूपांतरण के लिए कई महत्वपूर्ण परिवर्तनों की आवश्यकता होगी। प्रथम, राष्ट्र-राज्यों को आंतरिक विविधता के प्रति अधिक लचीला और उत्तरदायी बनना होगा, इसके लिए संघीय या विकेंद्रीकृत संरचनाओं को अपनाना होगा जो विभिन्न पहचानों और हितों को समायोजित कर सकें। द्वितीय, उन्हें वैश्विक चुनौतियों का सामना करने के लिए सामूहिक क्षमता को बढ़ाने के बदले संप्रभुता पर सीमित और संतुलित नियंत्रण स्वीकार करते हुए अंतरराष्ट्रीय सहयोग में अधिक सक्रिय भागीदारी करनी होगी। तृतीय, जातीय राष्ट्रवाद के बजाय नागरिक राष्ट्रवाद पर बल देने से सामाजिक एकता को सुदृढ़ किया जा सकता है और राज्य की अपने नागरिकों को मूल्य प्रदान करने की क्षमता में सुधार किया जा सकता है। हालांकि, यदि राष्ट्र-राज्य इन विकसित होती वास्तविकताओं के प्रति कठोर और अनुत्तरदायी बना रहता है, तो वह क्रमिक रूप से अप्रासंगिक होने का जोखिम उठाता है।

Q.50) उपर्युक्त परिच्छेद के आधार पर, निम्नलिखित में से कौन सा शब्द आधुनिक राष्ट्र-राज्य के लक्ष्य को सर्वोत्तम रूप से व्यक्त करता है?

Q.1) With reference to India, consider the following statements:
1. There is only one citizenship and one domicile.
2. A citizen by birth only can become the Head of State.
3. A foreigner once granted citizenship cannot be deprived of it under any circumstance.
Which of the statements given above is/are correct?
a) 1 only
b) 2 only
c) 1 and 3
d) 2 and 3

Ans) a
Exp) Option a is the correct answer.
Statement 1 is correct. The Indian Constitution provides for only a single citizenship, that is, the Indian citizenship. The citizens in India owe allegiance only to the Union. There is no separate state citizenship. Also, when an Indian citizen voluntarily acquires the citizenship of another country, his Indian citizenship automatically terminates. There is only one domicile allowed in India. Domicile Certificate can be made only in one State/UT. In 2010, the Uttarakhand High Court declared that there is no separate domicile for each State and there is only one domicile for the entire country.
Statement 2 is incorrect. The President is the Head of the Indian State. In India, both a citizen by birth as well as a naturalised citizen are eligible for the office of President. Thus, a naturalized citizen can become the Head of the State in India.
This is different from the USA, where only a citizen by birth (and not a naturalised citizen) is eligible for the office of President.
Statement 3 is incorrect. A foreigner, who has been earlier granted Indian citizenship, can be deprived of his citizenship.

c) Only one of the Statements II and III is correct and that explains Statement I.

d) Neither Statement II nor Statement III is correct.

Ans) c

Exp) Option c is the correct answer

Statements I and III are correct: A Constitution is the supreme law of the country that governs a politically organized society. It lays down the basic structure of the political system by defining the powers and responsibilities of different levels and organs of government, ensuring the rule of law. It reflects the faith and aspirations of the people, giving them a shared identity. The Constitution plays a vital role in shaping society. It sets the rules for coordination among diverse groups, helping maintain harmony. It also provides a framework for achieving collective goals and aspirations, guiding the overall progress and development of society. Thus, the Constitution and its principles govern the functioning of the country.

Statement III explains Statement I: The Constitution is the supreme law of a country as it determines the relationship among people living in a territory (called citizens) and also the relationship between the people and the government. It is the principles of the Constitution eg. limits on the government, coordination and trust between government and citizens and between citizens, aspirations of the people etc because of which it is considered as the supreme law of a country.

Statement II is incorrect: The Constitution is not an instrument for the government to restrain the people; it is an instrument for the people to restrain the government. The Constitution ensures a type of limited government, answerable to the people.

How many of the pairs given above are correctly matched?
a) Only one
b) Only two
c) Only three

Q.7) In the context of Indian Polity, consider the following statements:
I. A law passed by the Parliament conferring absolute discretionary power to law enforcement agencies.
II. An organized opposition by a section of the citizens against a specific law validly enacted by the legislature.
III. The enactment or execution of a legal provision that treats individuals in the same circumstances differently, without any reasonable or rational basis for such classification.
Which of the above scenario(s) violates the principle of the Rule of Law?
a) I and III only
b) I, II and III
c) I only
d) III only

Ans) a
Exp) Option a is the correct answer.
Rule of Law is a core principle of democracy, meaning the country is governed by law, not individual whims, and no one is above the law; all government actions must be lawful and just. According to A.V. Dicey, it rests on three principles: absence of arbitrary power, equality before the law, and predominance of legal spirit.
Statement I is correct. Granting absolute discretionary powers to law enforcement agencies is a violation of Rule of Law. Absolute discretion means no clear limits on power. This directly leads to arbitrariness.

Enroll in our early newspaper program with free top UPSC test series. Limited seats! Call 8168305050

Statement II is incorrect. Mere opposition by a section of citizens to a law is NOT a violation of Rule of Law. In a democracy, disagreement with laws is normal. People may oppose laws for political or social reasons. However, the Rule of Law is concerned with legality and constitutionality, not popularity.

Statement III is correct. Application of different laws to persons belonging to the same category is a violation of the Rule of Law. If persons in the same category are treated differently without reasonable justification, it leads to discrimination. Such unequal treatment breaks Article 14 and goes against Dicey's idea of universal subjection to law.

Q.8) Which one among the following is the most essential feature to ensure Constitutionalism in a country?
a) Multi-party political system
b) Committed bureaucracy
c) Written Constitution
d) Separation of Powers

Ans) d
Exp) Option d is the correct answer.
Constitutionalism goes beyond the mere existence of a Constitution, emphasizing a government limited by law and accountable within defined boundaries. It ensures that power is not arbitrary and is properly distributed and checked. At its core, it guarantees the protection of citizens' rights, separation of powers, and limited government.

Option a is incorrect. A multi-party system is not the essential feature of constitutionalism. Countries generally having a two-party system like the United States also follow constitutionalism. Constitutionalism doesn't depend on the number of parties operating in any state.

Option b is incorrect. The idea of a "committed bureaucracy" implies loyalty to the ruling government rather than to the Constitution. A commitment to a particular political party or its leaders becomes contrary to neutrality; this can lead to biased decision-making and misuse of power. Constitutionalism requires a neutral, impartial and rule-bound bureaucracy, not a committed one.

Option c is incorrect. A written Constitution is no guarantee for Constitutionalism. Even Nazi Germany had a constitution but that does not mean that it adhered to the philosophy of Constitutionalism be it a negative or positive aspect of it. As the Supreme Court said in S.R. Chaudhuri v. State of Punjab (2001) "the mere existence of a constitution, by itself, does not ensure constitutionalism. Countries like Britain and New Zealand have no written documents as a constitution but they have a fine tradition of constitutionalism.

Option d is correct. Separation of powers divides authority among the Legislature, the Executive and the Judiciary. This prevents the concentration of power in one organ. Each organ checks the other. Thus it is one of the most essential features for Constitutionalism.

b) Both Statement I and Statement II are correct but Statement II does not explain Statement I.
c) Statement I is correct but Statement II is not correct.
d) Statement I is not correct but Statement II is correct.

Ans) d
Exp) Option d is the correct answer.
Statement I is incorrect. In 1929, the Congress had not yet formally demanded a Constituent Assembly. At that time, the focus was on complete independence. It was in 1935 that the Indian National Congress officially demanded a Constituent Assembly.
Statement II is correct. At the Lahore Session of the Indian National Congress (December 1929), under the leadership of Jawaharlal Nehru, the demand for Purna Swaraj (complete independence) was formally adopted. This marked a decisive break from earlier demands like Dominion Status. It also led to the declaration of 26 January 1930 as Independence Day, when people were urged to pledge for complete freedom.

a) Only one
b) Only two
c) Only three
d) All the four

Ans) b
Exp) Option b is the correct answer.
While January 26, 1950, is celebrated as the date of commencement of the Constitution, several critical provisions were brought into force immediately upon its adoption on November 26, 1949, to handle the immediate needs of the newly independent nation.
As per Article 394 of the Indian Constitution, Articles 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 60, 324, 366, 367, 379, 380, 388, 391, 392 and 393 shall come into force at once (i.e. on 26th November 1949) and the remaining provisions of this Constitution shall come into force on the twenty-sixth day of January, 1950, which day is referred to in this Constitution as the commencement of this Constitution.
Option I is correct: Citizenship (Articles 5, 6, 7, 8, and 9) came into force on November 26, 1949. This was essential to define who the citizens of India were at the time of the partition and the mass movement of people across borders.
Option II is correct: The Union and its Territory (Articles 1-4) came into force on 26th January 1950.
Option III is incorrect: Fundamental Rights (Part III) did not come into force on November 26, 1949. Along with the Directive Principles of State Policy and the majority of other provisions, they came into force on the date of commencement, January 26, 1950.

Q.18) In context of Constitutionalism, the concept of 'Distributive Justice' can be most appropriately related to-

a) The fairness of the processes and procedures used to make decisions and administer laws.

b) The fair allocation of resources and benefits within society.

c) Harmony between an individual and Society

d) The strict application of punitive laws to maintain public order and social stability.

Ans) b

Exp) Option b is the correct answer.

To achieve social justice in society, governments might have to do more than just ensuring that laws and policies treat individuals in a fair manner. Social justice also concerns the just distribution of resources, whether it is between nations or between different groups and individuals within a society.

Distributive justice is a course that Social Justice adopts. It focuses on the fair allocation of resources and benefits within society. Often contrasted with just process, which is concerned with the administration of law, distributive justice concentrates on outcomes. John Rawls' Theory of Justice is one of the examples of Distributive Justice. In his book A Theory of Justice, John Rawls outlines his famous theory about justice as fairness. The theory consists of three core components:

1. The equality of people in rights and liberties;
2. The equality of opportunities for all; and
3. An arrangement of economic inequalities focused on benefit maximization for those who are least advantaged.

India has emerged as the world's seventh-largest coffee producer in FY 2023–24, with a significant share of its production coming from the southern states. Globally, Brazil remains the leading producer, contributing nearly 40% of the world's coffee supply.

Within India, however, coffee production is heavily concentrated in three states: Karnataka, Kerala, and Tamil Nadu, each contributing differently to the national output.

- Karnataka is the largest coffee-producing state in India, contributing around 70% of the country's total coffee output. Major coffee-growing districts include Kodagu, Chikkamagaluru, and Hassan.
- Kerala ranks second, with a contribution of about 20% to national production. Both Arabica and Robusta varieties are grown extensively in regions such as Wayanad, Idukki, and Malabar.
- Tamil Nadu stands third, accounting for about 4–5% of India's coffee production, mainly from the Nilgiris and Yercaud regions.

Thus, the correct decreasing order of coffee production is: Karnataka (III) → Kerala (I) → Tamil Nadu (II), Statement-II: On 26th November, 1949, the Constituent Assembly of India set up a Drafting Committee under the Chairmanship of Dr. B. R. Ambedkar to prepare a Draft Constitution of India.

Which one of the following is correct in respect of the above statements?
a) Both Statement-I and Statement-II are correct and Statement-II is the correct explanation for Statement-I
b) Both Statement-I and Statement-II are correct and Statement-II is not the correct explanation for Statement-I
c) Statement-I is correct but Statement-II is incorrect
d) Statement-I is incorrect but Statement-II is correct

Ans) c
Exp) Option c is the correct answer
The Constituent Assembly of India was constituted in November 1946 under the scheme formulated by the Cabinet Mission Plan,1946. The assembly deliberated on the matters related to formation and provisions of the Constitution of India.
Statement I is correct: In India, the Constitution Day is celebrated in India on 26 November every year to commemorate the adoption of the Constitution of India and also it was celebrated to promote the constitutional values among the citizens of India.
Statement II is incorrect: On 29 August 1947, the Constituent Assembly set up a Drafting Committee under the Chairmanship of Dr. B.R. Q.32) With reference to the Preamble of the Constitution of India, consider the following statements:
Statement I: In the Berubari Union Case of 1960, the Supreme Court held that the Preamble is not a part of the Constitution.
Statement II: It is non-justiciable, that is, its provisions are not enforceable in courts of law.
Which one of the following is correct in respect of the above statements?
a) Both Statement I and Statement II are correct and Statement II explains Statement I
b) Both Statement I and Statement II are correct and Statement II does not explain Statement I
c) Statement I is correct but Statement II is not correct
d) Statement I is not correct but Statement II is correct

Ans) b

Statement I is correct: In the Berubari Union case (1960), the Supreme Court ruled that the Preamble to Constitution is not part of the Constitution. It held that Preamble shows the general purposes behind the several provisions in the Constitution, and is thus a key to the minds of the makers of the Constitution. The objectives enshrined in the Preamble can help in clarifying ambiguous Constitutional provisions.

Statement II is correct: The Preamble is neither a source of power nor a Prohibition upon the legislative power of the Parliament. As the provisions of Preamble are non-justiciable, that is, its provisions are not enforceable in courts of law.

The Preamble is a statement of the ideals and principles that the Constitution seeks to establish. It does not confer any powers on the government or impose any restrictions on the powers of the legislature. The powers of the government are derived from other parts of the Constitution, such as the fundamental rights, directive principles of state policy, and the legislative lists.

However, Statement II does not explain Statement I, as the Supreme Court said that the Preamble shows the general purposes behind the several provisions in the Constitution. But at the end it specifically opined that the Preamble is not a part of the Constitution. The judgment has no link with the justiciability and nonjusticiability of the Preamble which was looked into in future judgements.

Knowledge Base: In the Kesavananda Bharati case (1973), reversing the verdict of the Berubari Union case (1960), the Supreme Court ruled that the Preamble is Part of the Constitution.

Q.34) Consider the following statements:
Statement I: India is a republic, while Britain is a Monarchy
Statement II: The Head of State in India is elected for a fixed period, unlike in Britain, where the Head of State holds a hereditary position.
Statement III: In the context of law-making, in India, the Constitution is supreme, while in Britain, the Parliament is supreme.
Which one of the following is correct in respect of the above statements?
a) Both Statement II and Statement III are correct and both of them explain Statement I
b) Both Statement II and Statement III are correct but only one of them explains Statement I
c) Only one of the Statements II and III is correct and that explains Statement I
d) Neither Statement II nor Statement III is correct

Ans) b
Exp) Option b is the correct answer.
Statements I and II are correct and Statement II explains Statement I: The Preamble declares India as a Republic. It means that the head of the State is elected and he/she is not a hereditary ruler as in the case of the British Monarch.
In India, the Head of State i.e., the President, is elected indirectly for a period of 5 years. This signifies India has a republican democratic polity.
While in Britain the Head of state enjoys a hereditary position, that is he/she comes into office through succession. Thus, it is a monarchical democratic polity.
Statement III is correct: India follows constitutional supremacy. The Parliament derives its existence, powers and authority from the Constitution.
As regards law-making, the Indian Parliament may, in exercise of its constituent power, amend by way of addition, variation or repeal any provision of the Constitution in accordance with the procedure laid down for the purpose.
While in Britain, Parliamentary sovereignty/supremacy is there. The Parliament can create or end any law. Generally, the courts cannot overrule its legislation and no Parliament can pass laws that future Parliaments cannot change.
Statement III does not explain Statement I: Statement III is more of a difference in the models adopted with respect to the functioning of Parliamentary models in Britain and India. It is not related to why India is a republic while Britain is a monarchy.
The difference arises as India has a written constitution while Britain has an unwritten Constitution.

Statement I is correct: A bill for the alteration of state boundaries is governed by Article 3 of the Indian Constitution. According to this Article, no bill for the formation of a new State or alteration of boundaries or names of existing States can be introduced in Parliament without the prior recommendation of the President.

Citizenship in India is governed by the Constitution and the Citizenship Act, 1955. The rules for citizenship by birth have become increasingly stringent over the years to address concerns regarding illegal migration.

Which of the statements given above are correct?
a) I and II only
b) II and III only
c) I and III only
d) I, II and III

Ans) d
Exp) Option d is the correct answer.
The Constituent Assembly was initially composed of 389 members. 292 members were elected through the Provincial Legislative Assemblies, 93 represented the Indian Princely States, and 4 represented the Chief Commissioners' Provinces.
It was a partly elected and partly nominated body. While the representatives of British Provinces were elected by the members of the provincial legislative assemblies using the method of proportional representation by means of a single transferable vote, the representatives of the Princely States were nominated by the heads of those states.
Statement I is correct: T.M. Kalliannan Gounder joined the Indian National Congress at the age of 19 and participated in the Quit India movement. He was elected to the Indian Constituent Assembly while he was 28-years-old. He was reportedly the youngest member in the Constituent Assembly then and also a member of India's first provisional parliament.

Ans) d

Exp) Option d is the correct answer.

Extreme Nuclear Transients (ENTs) are among the most powerful energy explosions in the universe, triggered when supermassive black holes tear apart massive stars.

They form when a massive star ventures too close to a supermassive black hole and undergoes extreme tidal disruption, causing the star to stretch and compress into a thin, rapidly heated stream of stellar material.

ENTs are extraordinarily energetic and they can emit nearly 100 times more energy in a single year than the Sun will generate over its entire 10-billion-year lifetime, and they shine up to 10 times brighter than typical tidal disruption events (TDEs).

Q.46) Vikram has fifteen pairs of black, ten pairs of white and five pairs of grey socks in a drawer. If he randomly picks socks one by one (without replacement) from the drawer to get a black pair of socks to wear, what is the maximum number of attempts he has to make?

a) 31

b) 32

c) 45

d) 46

Ans) b

Exp) Option b is the correct answer.

Vikram has:

- 15 pairs of black socks = 30 black socks
- 10 pairs of white socks = 20 white socks
- 5 pairs of grey socks = 10 grey socks

So total non-black socks are: 20 + 10 = 30

We need the maximum number of attempts required to guarantee a black pair.

Worst-case situation

In the worst case, Vikram may first pick all 30 non-black socks:

- 20 white
- 10 grey

Even then, he still has no black socks.

Now after these 30 picks, the next socks must come from the 30 black socks.

- 31st pick → first black sock
- 32nd pick → second black sock

So instead of looking at 91726, look at 6.
Hence: $(6)^{13x11x9x7x5}$
Now observe the pattern of powers of 6:
$6^1 = 6$
$6^2 = 36$
$6^3 = 216$
$6^4 = 1296$
In every case, the unit digit remains 6.
This means: any positive integral power of 6 always ends in 6
Now the exponent here is: $13 \times 11 \times 9 \times 7 \times 5$
Therefore, the unit digit of $(91726)^{13x11x9x7x5}$ is 6.

Q.48) A, B, and C working independently can do a piece of work in 6, 12, and 9 days respectively. A alone works on Monday, B alone works on Tuesday, C alone works on Wednesday; A alone again works on Thursday and so on in the same cycle and there is no break until the work is completed.
Consider the following statements:
I. The work will be finished on Wednesday.
II. The work will be finished in 8 days.
Which of the above statements is/are correct?
a) I only
b) II only
c) Both I and II
d) Neither I nor II

Ans) d
Exp) Option d is the correct answer.
Given
- A can do the work alone in 6 days ⇒ daily work = 1/6
- B can do the work alone in 12 days ⇒ daily work = 1/12
- C can do the work alone in 9 days ⇒ daily work = 1/9
- Working pattern:
  - Day 1 (Monday): A
  - Day 2 (Tuesday): B
  - Day 3 (Wednesday): C
  - Then the same cycle repeats.

Work done in one complete 3-day cycle (A + B + C)
- A's work in 1 day = 1/6
- B's work in 1 day = 1/12
- C's work in 1 day = 1/9

Add them:
- LCM of 6, 12, 9 = 36
- 1/6 = 6/36
- 1/12 = 3/36
- 1/9 = 4/36

Total work in 3 days = (6 + 3 + 4)/36 = 13/36
Work done after 6 days (two full cycles)
- Work in 3 days = 13/36
- Work in 6 days = 2 × 13/36 = 26/36 = 13/18

Remaining work after 6 days:

- 1 – 13/18 = 5/18

Day-by-day after 6 days

Day 7 (Sunday – A works):

- A does 1/6 = 3/18
- Remaining work = 5/18 – 3/18 = 2/18 = 1/9

Day 8 (Monday – B works):

- B does 1/12 = 1.5/18
- Remaining work after B's full day = 2/18 – 1.5/18 = 0.5/18= 1/36

So, the work is not yet finished after Day 8.

Day 9 (Tuesday – C works):

- C does 1/9 = 2/18
- Remaining work is only 0.5/18, so C finishes the work on Tuesday.

Checking the statements

Statement I: The work will be finished on Wednesday

Incorrect (finished on Day 9, which is Tuesday)

Statement II: The work will be finished in 8 days

Incorrect (it finishes during the 9th day)

Therefore, Option d is the correct answer.

Q.49) A special cake is prepared by mixing flour, butter, and sugar in the ratio 5 : 4 : 7 by volume. The weights of equal volumes of flour, butter, and sugar are in the ratio 5 : 3 : 9. What will be the weight of sugar in 1.5 kg of cake?

a) 630 g

b) 945 g

c) 725 g

d) 815 g

Ans) b

Exp) Option b is the correct answer

Let 1 cup of flour, butter and sugar be 5k, 3k, and 9k grams respectively.

Let 5x, 4x, and 7x cups of flour, butter and sugar be mixed respectively.

Total weight of this mixture = (5x × 5k + 4x × 3k + 7x × 9k) = (25 + 12 + 63)kx grams

So 100kx grams of this mixture contains 63kx grams of sugar

Hence, 1.5 kg of cake will contain 1500 × 63kx/100kx = 945 grams of sugar.

Passage - 1

Today, the nation-state faces multiple challenges arising from globalization, movements for regional autonomy, and internal ethnic conflicts. Yet its future is likely to lie not in disappearance, but in transformation. Such transformation would require several key shifts. First, nation-states must become more flexible and responsive to internal diversity by adopting federal or decentralized structures that accommodate varied identities and interests. Second, they must engage more actively in international cooperation, accepting calibrated limitations on sovereignty in return for enhanced collective capacity to address global challenges. Third, an emphasis on civic rather than ethnic nationalism can strengthen social cohesion and improve the state's ability to deliver value to its citizens. However, if the nation-state remains rigid and unresponsive to these evolving realities, it risks gradual obsolescence.

Q.50) Based on the above passage, which one of the following terms best expresses the goal of the modern nation state?
a) Decentralization of structures
b) International activism
c) Personal freedom
d) Adaptability and responsiveness

Ans) d
Exp) Option d is the correct answer.
Option a is incorrect. The passage states "nation-states must become more flexible and responsive to internal diversity by adopting federal or decentralized structures that accommodate varied identities and interests." However, statement a does not best express the goal of the modern nation state as it focuses only upon one goal.
Option b is incorrect. The passage states "they (nation-state) must engage more actively in international cooperation, accepting calibrated limitations on sovereignty in return for enhanced collective capacity to address global challenges". However, statement b does not best express the goal of the modern nation state as it focuses only upon one goal.
Option c is incorrect. The passage does not talk about providing personal freedom to individuals as the goal of the nation state. Therefore, it is incorrect.
Option d is correct. The option best expresses the goal of the modern nation state as it highlights that nation state needs to adapt to the challenges of the modern day world to remain relevant. It is mentioned in the passage as "Today, the nation-state faces multiple challenges arising from globalization, movements for regional autonomy, and internal ethnic conflicts. Yet its future is likely to lie not in disappearance, but in transformation."" However, if the nation-state remains rigid and unresponsive to these evolving realities, it risks gradual obsolescence."
