Directions for the following 2 (two) items:
Read the following passage and answer the items that follow the passage. Your answers to these items should be based on the passage only

Passage - 1

For decades, India's economic script revolved around steel, silicon and seeds. We measured our progress by the length of our highways, tonnage of our wheat and volume of our software exports. Today, the orange economy signals a new hue in India's growth imagination. When a nation exports its imagination, it stops competing on the basis of low-cost labour and starts leading on the basis of ideas. Yet this shift is not without its tensions. While the orange economy offers high-paying jobs, there is a risk of a widening divide. The creative boom is currently concentrated in urban clusters, bypassing much of rural India. Furthermore, structural hurdles such as funding gaps, a regulatory maze and a lack of physical infrastructure remain. Only if these barriers are dismantled, 'Made in India' will give way to something more powerful: 'Imagined in India'.

Q.46) Which one of the following statements best reflects the most logical, rational and pragmatic message conveyed by the author of the passage?

a) Policymakers must ensure that the gains of the orange economy are equitably distributed between rural and urban India.
b) Greater government investment will be vital for expanding the orange economy.
c) If the structural challenges within India's orange economy are addressed, the sector can position India as a global force shaping ideas.
d) The expansion of the orange economy will improve living standards by creating high-paying jobs.

परिच्छेद - 1

दशकों तक, भारत की आर्थिक संरचना इस्पात, सिलिकॉन और बीजों के इर्द-गिर्द घूमती रही। हम अपनी प्रगति को राजमार्गों की लंबाई, गेहूं के उत्पादन और सॉफ्टवेयर निर्यात की मात्रा से मापते थे। आज, ऑरेंज इकोनॉमी भारत की विकास कल्पना में एक नया रंग दर्शाती है। जब कोई राष्ट्र अपनी कल्पनाशीलता (नवाचार और रचनात्मकता) का निर्यात करता है, तो वह कम लागत वाले श्रम के आधार पर प्रतिस्पर्धा करना बंद कर देता है और विचारों के आधार पर नेतृत्व करना शुरू कर देता है। फिर भी, यह बदलाव चुनौतियों से रहित नहीं है। ऑरेंज इकोनॉमी उच्च वेतन वाली नौकरियां प्रदान करती है, लेकिन इससे असमानता बढ़ने का खतरा भी है। रचनात्मक विस्तार वर्तमान में शहरी क्षेत्रों में केंद्रित है, जो ग्रामीण भारत के बड़े हिस्से को उपेक्षित कर रहा है। इसके अलावा, वित्तपोषण की कमी, जटिल नियामक प्रणाली और भौतिक बुनियादी ढांचे की कमी जैसी संरचनात्मक बाधाएं बनी हुई हैं। यदि इन बाधाओं को दूर किया जाता है, तभी 'मेड इन इंडिया' एक अधिक शक्तिशाली अवधारणा को जन्म देगा: 'इमैजिन्ड इन इंडिया'।

Q.46) निम्नलिखित में से कौन सा कथन परिच्छेद के लेखक द्वारा व्यक्त सबसे तार्किक, युक्तिसंगत और व्यावहारिक संदेश को सर्वोत्तम रूप से प्रतिबिंबित करता है?

a) नीति-निर्माताओं को यह सुनिश्चित करना चाहिए कि ऑरेंज इकोनॉमी के लाभ ग्रामीण और शहरी भारत के बीच समान रूप से वितरित हों।
b) ऑरेंज इकोनॉमी के विस्तार के लिए अधिक सरकारी निवेश की आवश्यकता होगी।
c) यदि भारत की ऑरेंज इकोनॉमी में मौजूद संरचनात्मक चुनौतियों का समाधान किया जाए, तो यह क्षेत्र भारत को वैश्विक स्तर पर विचारों का नेतृत्व करने वाली शक्ति के रूप में स्थापित कर सकता है।

Q.1) Which one of the following in Indian polity is an essential feature that indicates that it is federal in character?
a) The independence of judiciary is safeguarded.
b) The Union Legislature has elected representatives from constituent units.
c) The Union Cabinet can have elected representatives from regional parties.
d) The Fundamental Rights are enforceable by Courts of Law.

Ans) a
Exp) Option a is the correct answer.

II. The President's prior recommendation is necessary before the introduction of such a bill.
III. A bill that only contains provisions dealing with the appropriation of money out of the Consolidated Fund of India shall be deemed to be a money bill.
IV. The House of People should agree to the recommendations of the Council of States on the Money Bill to consider it passed by both the Houses of Parliament.
Which of the statements given above are correct?
a) I and II only
b) II and III only
c) I, II and III
d) I, III and IV

Ans) c

Exp) Option c is the correct answer.

Statements I and II are correct: As per Article 109 of the Constitution of India, a money Bill shall not be introduced in the Council of States.

A Bill or amendment making provision for any of the matters specified in sub-clauses (a) to (f) of clause (1) of Article 110 of the Constitution of India, i.e., a money bill shall not be introduced or moved in the House of People except on the recommendation of the President

Statement III is correct: Article 110(1)(a)–(f) defines a Money Bill. A Bill shall be deemed to be a Money Bill if it contains only provisions dealing with all or any of the following matters, namely:–

(a) the imposition, abolition, remission, alteration or regulation of any tax;

(b) the regulation of the borrowing of money or the giving of any guarantee by the Government of India, or the amendment of the law with respect to any financial obligations undertaken or to be undertaken by the Government of India;

If the House of the People does not accept any of the recommendations of the Council of States, the Money Bill shall be deemed to have been passed by both Houses in the form in which it was passed by the House of the People without any of the amendments recommended by the Council of States.

Q.4) With reference to the Whip System with respect to Parliament in India, consider the following statements:

I. The whip practice in India is inspired from the British Parliamentary System.

II. The Minister of Home Affairs serves as the government's chief whip in the Lok Sabha.

III. The office of whip in India is a constitutional office, established under the Tenth Schedule of the Indian Constitution.

Which of the statements given above is/are correct?

a) I only

b) I and II

c) II and III

d) I and III

Ans) a

Exp) Option a is the correct answer.

Every political party, whether ruling or in opposition, appoints its own Whips in Parliament to ensure party discipline. The Whip acts as an assistant floor leader, responsible for ensuring the attendance of party members in large numbers and securing their support on key issues. Additionally, the Whip regulates and monitors the behaviour of party members in Parliament. Members are expected to adhere to the directives issued by the Whip, failing which disciplinary action may be taken against them.

Statement I is correct: A whip refers to a written order issued to party members in the House to vote or act in a particular direction. The whip practice followed in India is inspired from the British Parliamentary System, where it originated from the old practice of "whipping in" lawmakers to ensure they follow the party line.

Statement II is incorrect: In the Lok Sabha, the Minister of Parliamentary Affairs generally serves as the government's Chief Whip, while in the Rajya Sabha, this role is performed by the Minister of State for Parliamentary Affairs.

The Chief Whip is directly responsible to the Leader of the House and plays a key role in advising the government on parliamentary business. Additionally, the Chief Whip maintains close coordination with ministers regarding legislative matters that affect their respective departments Statement III is incorrect: Under the Tenth Schedule of the Constitution, which governs the Anti-Defection Law, a Member of Parliament can be disqualified by the PresidingOfficer of the House if they defy a party whip in specific cases, such as abstaining from voting or voting against the party's directions.

But there is no mention of the office of the Whip in the Tenth Schedule.

Knowledge Base:

A three-line whip directs members to be present and vote as per the party line. Under each sentence, there are three thick horizontal lines. If a member violates a three-line whip, the leader of the party can recommend his or her disqualification to the Presiding Officer of the House. As per the Anti-Defection Law, disqualification can happen for violation of a three-line whip. A one-line whip just informs members about a vote but permits them to abstain. A two-line whip asks them to be present but does not tell them how to vote.

Q.5) Which Chola ruler assumed the titles 'Gangaikonda Chola' and 'Kadaram Kondan' after his Northern Indian and Southeast Asian military conquests?

a) Rajaraja I
b) Rajendra Chola I
c) Rajadhiraja I
d) Kulottunga I

Ans) b

Exp) Option b is the correct answer.

Rajendra Chola I (reigned 1014–1044 CE) was the son of Rajaraja Chola I and succeeded him as the Chola emperor. Under his rule, the Chola Empire reached its greatest territorial extent, both in the Indian subcontinent and overseas, and thereby earned both titles due to his exceptional military achievements.

Titles and their significance:

- Gangaikonda Chola ("Conqueror of the Ganges") – Rajendra Chola I earned this title after his victorious northern campaigns against the Pala dynasty, which extended Chola influence up to the Ganges River. To commemorate this achievement, he built a new capital called Gangaikonda Cholapuram.

- Kadaram Kondan ("Conqueror of Kedah") – This title was assumed following his successful naval expeditions in Southeast Asia, particularly against the Srivijaya Empire (modern-day Sumatra, Java, and the Malay Peninsula). His campaigns ensured Chola dominance over key maritime trade routes in the Indian Ocean.

Q.6) In the context of Indian Polity, consider the following statements:
Statement I: The Water (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Act, 1974, enacted by the Parliament, extends to only certain states mentioned under the Act.
Statement II: As per the Constitution of India, Parliament can legislate on subjects in the State List if two or more Legislatures of the States pass a resolution to that effect, and the act such passed by the Parliament shall apply to those states which passed such resolution.
Statement III: As per the Constitution of India, Parliament has the power to make any law for any part of the territory of India for implementing any International treaty or agreement.
Which one of the following is correct in respect of the above statements?
a) Both Statement II and Statement III are correct and both of them explain Statement I.
b) Both Statement II and Statement III are correct but only one of them explains Statement I.
c) Only one of the Statements II and III is correct and that explains Statement I.
d) Neither Statement II nor Statement III is correct.

Ans) b
Exp) Option b is the correct answer
Statements I and II are correct and Statement II explains Statement I: The Water (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Act, 1974 aims to prevent water pollution, regulate effluents, empower CPCB/SPCBs, and improve India's river and groundwater quality. Though Water is a State subject, the Act was enacted when 12 states passed resolutions requesting Parliament to legislate on water pollution.
Article 252 of the Indian Constitution allows Parliament to make laws on subjects in the State List. It reflects the spirit of cooperative federalism where States voluntarily give legislative power to the Centre for uniformity in certain matters.
Under Article 252(1), when two or more State Legislatures pass resolutions, Parliament gets the power to make laws on that State List subject. Any Act so passed shall apply to such States which passed the resolution for enactment of the law by the Parliament and to any other State by which it is adopted afterwards by a resolution passed in that behalf by the Houses of the Legislatures of those States.
As per Article 252(2), once such a law is enacted, only Parliament can amend or repeal it. State legislatures cannot modify the law. This ensures uniformity across States that adopted the law.
Statement III is correct: As per Article 253 of the Indian Constitution, Parliament has power to make any law for the whole or any part of the territory of India for implementing any treaty, agreement or convention with any other country or countries or any decision made at any international conference, association or other body.
Statement III does not explain Statement I: As in the case of the Water (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Act, 1974 was passed by Parliament under Article 252 of the Indian Constitution.

Q.7) In the context of Indian Polity, consider the following statements:
Statement I: The Governor of a state, with the consent of the State Legislature, may entrust to the Central government any of the executive functions of the state.
Statement II: The Governor is the Executive Head of the State.
Which of the above is correct in respect of the above statements?
a) Both Statement I and Statement II are correct and Statement II explains Statement I.
b) Both Statement I and Statement II are correct but Statement II does not explain Statement I.
c) Statement I is correct but Statement II is not correct.
d) Statement I is not correct but Statement II is correct.

Ans) d
Exp) Option d is the correct answer.
Indian federalism is not rigid. It is flexible in nature. The Constitution allows both the Union and the States to cooperate in administrative matters. This flexibility is clearly visible in Article 258 and Article 258A. While Article 258 allows the Union to entrust its functions to the States, Article 258A allows the State to entrust its functions to the Union. This two-way mechanism ensures better coordination and also improves efficiency in governance.
Statement I is incorrect. Under Article 258A, the Governor can entrust the State's executive functions to the Union Government with the consent of the Union Government. There is no role of the State Legislature.
Statement II is correct. The Governor is the Executive Head of the State within the meaning of Article 153 and 154 of the Constitution of India. Article 154 vests the executive powers of the State in the Governor who exercises it either directly or through officers subordinate to him in accordance with the Constitution. Under Article 163, the Governor as the Constitutional Head exercises all powers under the Constitution on the aid and advice of the Council of Ministers.

A Bill having a provision:

I. that impose reasonable restrictions on the freedom of trade, commerce and intercourse with other States.

II. related to imposition, abolition, remission, alteration or regulation of any tax.

III. of the creation of a Legislative Council in a State having no such Council.

Select the correct answer using the code given below:

a) I only

b) I and II only

c) II and III only

d) I, II and III

Ans) a

Exp) Option a is the correct answer.

The Constitution provides two types of Presidential control over State Bills:

Prior recommendation – A Bill cannot be introduced without the President's approval (Article 304(b)), mainly to protect inter-State trade.

Reservation for consideration – After a Bill is passed, the Governor may reserve it for the President's decision (Articles 200–201), especially on matters affecting the High Court or the Constitution Statement I is correct. Under Article 304(b), prior Presidential sanction is required when restrictions affect inter-State trade and commerce.

As per Article 304(b), the state legislature by law may impose such reasonable restrictions on the freedom of trade, commerce or intercourse with or within that State as may be required in the public interest. But such a Bill shall be introduced or moved in the Legislature of a State only with the previous sanction of the President.

Statement II is incorrect. Article 199 of the Indian Constitution deals with the Money bill in the states. The imposition, abolition, remission, alteration or regulation of any tax comes within the definition of money bill can be introduced only with the prior recommendation of the Governor.

In case of a financial emergency in the country, such bills shall be reserved for the President's assent.

Statement III is incorrect. As per Article 169 of the Indian Constitution, the Legislative Assembly of the State may pass a resolution for the creation of a Legislative Council by a majority of the total membership of the Assembly and by a majority of not less than two-thirds of the members of the Assembly present and voting. Such a proposal does not require prior permission of the President.

Q.10) Consider the following natural sites in India:
I. Deccan Traps at Panchgani and Mahabaleshwar, Maharashtra
II. Meghalayan Age Caves, Meghalaya
III. Majuli Island, Assam
IV. Natural Heritage of Varkala, Kerala
How many of the above sites have been recently added to UNESCO's Tentative List (of World Heritage Sites) in 2025?
a) Only one
b) Only two
c) Only three
d) All the four

Ans) c
Exp) Option c is the correct answer.
Recently, seven natural heritage sites from India were added to UNESCO's Tentative List, raising the country's total entries from 62 to 69 (49 cultural, 17 natural, and 3 mixed heritage properties). Inclusion in the Tentative List is a mandatory step before nomination to the World Heritage List and reflects India's ongoing commitment to preserving its unique geological and ecological heritage.
Option I is correct: Deccan Traps at Panchgani and Mahabaleshwar, Maharashtra – INCLUDED
- This site forms part of the extensive Deccan Traps, one of the largest volcanic provinces in the world.
- Located within the Koyna Wildlife Sanctuary, which is already a UNESCO World Heritage Site.
- It showcases well-preserved lava flows, offering important insights into Earth's volcanic history.
- This site has been officially added in 2025 to the UNESCO's Tentative List.

Option II is correct: Meghalayan Age Caves, Meghalaya – INCLUDED
- It includes Mawmluh Cave, internationally recognised as the Global reference point for the Meghalayan Age of the Holocene Epoch.
- It also provides crucial evidence of climatic transitions, monsoonal variability, and geological processes.
- It is also among the seven new entries added in 2025 to the UNESCO's Tentative List.

Option III is incorrect: Majuli Island, Assam – NOT INCLUDED (INCLUDED EARLIER IN 2004, NOT A 2025 ADDITION)
- Majuli is one of the world's largest inhabited river islands, situated in the Brahmaputra River.
- Known for its rich Vaishnavite cultural heritage, satras (monastic institutions), and riverine ecology.
- It was first added to UNESCO's Tentative List in 2004, as a cultural heritage site, not a natural site.
- Therefore, Majuli is not part of the new set of seven sites added in 2025.

Option IV is correct: Varkala Cliffs, Kerala – INCLUDED
- It contains Scenic cliffs along Kerala's coast exposing the Warkalli Formation of Mio-Pliocene age
- Displays spectacular geological features such as natural springs, and distinct erosional landforms.
- It is also among the newly added sites to UNESCO's Tentative List in 2025.

Knowledge Base:
Other four newly added sites to the UNESCO Tentative list in 2025:
- Geological Heritage of St. Mary's Island Cluster, Karnataka – Known for rare columnar basalt formations from the Late Cretaceous period.

a) Deputy Speaker, Lok Sabha
b) Secretary General, Lok Sabha
c) Prime Minister
d) President

Ans) b
Exp) Option b is the correct answer.
A member wishing to give notice of a resolution for the removal of the Speaker or Deputy Speaker should address it in writing to the Secretary General of Lok Sabha. The Secretary General is responsible for receiving and processing such notices. Once the motion for leave to move the resolution is received, it is entered into the list of business in the member's name, and the Speaker fixes a day for its discussion and debate, which must be at least fourteen days after the receipt of the notice.

Q.12) In the context of tax revenues in India, the Value Added Tax (VAT) imposed on the sale of Petrol is a:
a) Tax levied and collected by the Centre but distributed between the Centre and States.
b) Tax levied by the Centre but collected and appropriated by the States.
c) Tax levied and collected by the Centre but assigned to the States.
d) Tax levied, collected, and retained by the States.

Ans) d
Exp) Option d is the correct answer.
Taxes Levied and Collected and Retained by the States: These are the taxes belonging to the states exclusively. They are enumerated in the state list and are 18 in number. Petroleum products like petrol are kept outside the GST regime, so States retain the power to levy Value Added Tax (VAT) on their sale. VAT is a State subject, and both the authority to impose and the responsibility to collect this tax lie with the State Governments.

Q.13) With reference to the suspension of Members of Parliament (MPs) in the Lok Sabha, consider the following statements:
I. Unlike the chairman of the Rajya Sabha, the speaker of Lok Sabha can suspend a member from the House only through a formal motion adopted by the House.
II. The maximum time period for the suspension of a member can be two consecutive sessions of the House.
III. The House, at any time during the period when a member is suspended, may pass a motion to terminate suspension of such member.
Which of the statements given above is/are correct?
a) I and II only
b) II and III only
c) III only
d) I, II and III

Ans) c
Exp) Option c is the correct answer.
Statement I is incorrect: Under Rule 374, the Speaker had to move a motion to suspend a member However, in 2001, Rule 374A was inserted. It provides that if a member is "named" by the Speaker for "grave disorder" (such as coming into the well of the House or shouting slogans), that member stands automatically suspended from the service of the House for five consecutive sittings or the remainder of the session, whichever is less. No formal motion is required under this specific rule.

While in the case of the Rajya Sabha under Rule 256 the Chairman may "name a Member who disregards the authority of the Chair or abuses the rules of the Council by persistently and wilfully obstructing" business. In such a situation, the House may adopt a motion suspending the Member from the service of the House for a period not exceeding the remainder of the session. Only through motion a member can be suspended in Rajya Sabha.

Statement II is incorrect: There are two ways in which a member can be suspended:

a) Under Rule 374, where the member can be suspended through a motion - The time period of suspension from the service of the House for a period not exceeding the remainder of the session.

b) Under Rule 374A, where a member can be suspended directly by the speaker. The time period of suspension from the service of the House for five consecutive sittings or the remainder of the session, whichever is less.

Thus, the maximum time period is the remainder of the session and not two consecutive sessions.

Statement III is correct: A member suspended either under Rule 374 or 374A, the House may, at any time, on a motion being made, resolve that such suspension of the member of the House be terminated.

Q.14) With reference to the Council of States in India, consider the following statements:

I. An Indian citizen aged above 30 years and registered as a voter in one of the parliamentary constituencies in the country is eligible to be a member of the House.

II. Members of the House are elected in accordance with the system of proportional representation by means of the single transferable vote.

III. The Supreme Court of India has the exclusive original jurisdiction over disputes related to elections to the Council of States.

IV. Among Union Territories, only Delhi and Puducherry have representation in the House.

Which of the statements given above are correct?

a) I and II only
b) II and III only
c) I and III only
d) I, II and IV

Ans) a

Exp) Option a is the correct answer.

Statement I is correct: As per Article 84(2) of the Constitution of India, an Indian citizen not less than thirty years of age is eligible for election to the Council of States. Further Article 84(3) says, provided qualifications under a law made by parliament are also fulfilled.

Eligibility conditions under the Representation of the People Act,1951, require that a Rajya Sabha candidate must be an elector in any parliamentary constituency in India Ex: Manmohan Singh was a Rajya Sabha member from Assam for five continuous terms, from October 1, 1991 to June 14, 2019, and thereafter, was again elected to the House from Rajasthan.

Statement II is correct: According to Article 80(4) of the Indian Constitution, the representatives of states in the Rajya Sabha are elected by the elected members of state legislative assemblies. The election is held in accordance with the system of proportional representation by means of the single transferable vote.

Statement III is incorrect: The Supreme Court of India does not have exclusive original jurisdiction over disputes related to elections to the Council of States. The High Court has original jurisdiction over Disputes relating to the election of members of Parliament and state legislatures. But the appellate jurisdiction lies with the Supreme Court.

Statement IV is incorrect: The representation of Union Territories in Rajya Sabha is limited to those UTs having legislatures. Currently, out of 9 UT's only Delhi (3 seats), Puducherry (1 seat), and Jammu & Kashmir (4 seats) have representation. The populations of other six union territories are too small to have any representative in the Rajya Sabha.

Q.15) Consider the following pollutants:
I. Tropospheric Ozone (O_3)
II. Sulfuric Acid
III. Peroxyacetyl Nitrate (PAN)
IV. Nitric Acid
V. Photochemical Smog
How many of the above are classified as secondary pollutants?
a) Only two
b) Only three
c) Only four
d) All the five

Ans) d
Exp) Option d is the correct answer.
Secondary pollutants are not emitted directly from any source. Instead, they are formed in the atmosphere through chemical reactions involving primary pollutants such as NO_x, SO_2, and VOCs, often in the presence of sunlight, oxygen, or water vapour.
Because they arise from reactions between multiple precursors, their formation is influenced by environmental conditions, making them more complex to control. Common examples include tropospheric ozone, PAN, sulfuric acid, nitric acid, and photochemical smog.
Option I is correct: Tropospheric Ozone (O_3)
It is not emitted directly. It forms when nitrogen oxides (NO_x) and volatile organic compounds (VOCs) undergo photochemical reactions in the presence of sunlight. Hence, it is a major secondary pollutant and a key component of urban smog.
Option II is correct: Sulfuric Acid
It forms secondarily when sulphur dioxide (SO_2), a primary pollutant, is oxidised in the atmosphere and reacts with water vapour to produce H_2SO_4. It is a major constituent of acid rain.
Option III is correct: Peroxyacetyl Nitrate (PAN)
PAN is produced through complex photochemical reactions involving NO_x and hydrocarbons. It is not emitted from any source directly and is a major eye-irritant component of photochemical smog, making it a clear secondary pollutant.
Option IV is correct: Nitric Acid
Nitric acid is formed in the atmosphere when nitrogen dioxide (NO_2) undergoes oxidation and dissolves in water vapour to form HNO_3. It contributes significantly to acid deposition and is classified as a secondary pollutant.

Option V is correct: Photochemical Smog

Photochemical smog itself is a secondary pollutant mixture, produced when sunlight reacts with NO_x and VOCs to generate oxidants such as ozone, PAN, aldehydes, and other secondary aerosols.

Knowledge Base:

Key Findings of CREA Study –

A study by the Centre for Research on Energy and Clean Air cREA) reports that secondary pollutants, especially ammonium sulphate, account for nearly one-third of India's PM2.5 pollution, highlighting the major role of atmospheric chemical reactions in worsening air quality.

Q.16) In the context of the Seventh Schedule of the Indian Constitution, consider the following pairs:

Subject	Mentioned in
I. Census	Union List
II. Local Government	State List
III. Forests	Concurrent List

How many pairs given above are correctly matched?

a) Only one

b) Only two

c) All the three

d) None

Ans) c

Exp) Option c is the correct answer

The Seventh Schedule of the Indian Constitution deals with the division of powers between the Union and State governments. The Seventh Schedule has three lists viz. Union List, State List and Concurrent List where the concurrent list ensures that both the Centre and the States have the power to legislate on subjects in the list.

Pair I is correct: As per the seventh schedule of the Constitution of India, Census is a union subject listed at 69 in the Union List in the Seventh Schedule. The Union List (List I) contains subjects on which only the Central government can legislate, encompassing critical areas such as defence, foreign affairs, and banking.

Pair II is correct: The State List includes subjects exclusively under the jurisdiction of State Governments, such as public order, health, Local Government and agriculture.

Pair III is correct: The subject "Forests" is listed in the Concurrent List in the Seventh Schedule of the Indian Constitution. The Concurrent List includes 52 subjects, like trade unions, marriage, adoption, and succession, Protection of wild animals and birds, Prevention of the extension of infectious or contagious diseases or pests affecting men, animals, or plants etc.

The Concurrent List (List III) allows both the Central and State Legislatures to make laws on shared subjects, with the central law prevailing in case of any conflict.

Which of the statements given above is/are correct?
a) I only
b) III and IV only
c) I and II only
d) I, II, III and IV

Ans) c
Exp) Option c is the correct answer.
Statement I is correct. A Private Member's Bill is initiated by an individual member of the Parliament, who is not a minister. Any bill introduced by a member other than minister is considered as a Private Members' Bill, irrespective of the fact that whether the member is from the ruling party/coalition or other party.
Statement II is correct. A member intending to introduce a Private Member's Bill must generally give one month's prior notice of their intention to move for leave to introduce the Bill. However, this requirement may be relaxed if the Presiding Officer permits shorter notice.
Statement III is incorrect. Private Member's Bills cannot be introduced and discussed on any working day. Typically, Friday is reserved for Private Members' legislative business. In Rajya Sabha every alternate Friday is reserved for it, whereas in Lok Sabha every Friday is reserved for private members bills.

a) 151 votes
b) 200 votes

c) 272 votes
d) 251 votes

Ans) c
Exp) Option c is the correct answer.
A judge of a High Court can be removed from his/her office by an order of the President. The President can issue the removal order only after an address by the Parliament has been presented to him in the same session for such removal. The address must be supported by a special majority of each House of Parliament (i.e., a majority of the total membership of that House and majority of not less than two-thirds of the members of that House present and voting).
Here, total membership = 543 → majority required = 272.
Members present and voting = 300 → 2/3 = 200.

II. A bill introduced in the Rajya Sabha and pending in the Rajya Sabha.
III. A bill introduced in the Lok Sabha and passed by the Lok Sabha but pending in the Rajya Sabha.
IV. A bill introduced in the Rajya Sabha and passed by the Rajya Sabha, but pending in the Lok Sabha.

When the Lok Sabha is dissolved, all business, including bills, motions, resolutions, notices, petitions and so on pending before it or its committees lapse. They must be reintroduced in the newly constituted Lok Sabha. However, some pending bills and all pending assurances that are to be examined by the Committee on Government Assurances do not lapse on the dissolution of the Lok Sabha.
Option I is correct: A bill pending in the Lok Sabha: Any bill pending in the Lok Sabha automatically lapses upon dissolution, as the House itself ceases to exist and its pending business is terminated.
Option II is not correct: A bill pending in the Rajya Sabha but not passed by the Lok Sabha: A bill pending in the Rajya Sabha but not yet passed by the Lok Sabha does not lapse, since Rajya Sabha is a permanent House and such bills remain pending.
Option III is correct: A bill passed by the Lok Sabha but pending in the Rajya Sabha: Such bills lapse on dissolution because they originate from the Lok Sabha, and its dissolution ends their legislative process.
Option IV is correct: A bill passed by the Rajya Sabha, but pending in the Lok Sabha: Such bills lapse upon dissolution because the Lok Sabha has not yet approved them and its dissolution terminates the pending stage.

Q.26) With reference to the Adjournment Motion in the House of People, consider the following statements:
I. Its objective is to draw the attention of the House to any recent matter of urgent public importance.

II. It needs the support of at least 100 members of the House to be admitted.
III. The Speaker of the House has the discretion whether to allow the member to move the motion.
IV. It is a form of censure against the government.
Which of the statements given above are correct?
a) I, II and III
b) I, III and IV
c) II, III and IV
d) I and IV only

Ans) b
Exp) Option b is the correct answer.
The Adjournment Motion is an extraordinary procedure in the Lok Sabha which, if admitted, leads to the setting aside of the normal business of the House to discuss a matter of urgent public importance. As it interrupts the normal business of the House, it is regarded as an extraordinary device. It involves an element of censure against the government and hence Rajya Sabha is not permitted to make use of this device.
Statement I is correct: Adjournment Motion is an extraordinary device to interrupt normal business of the House to discuss a definite matter of urgent public importance, thereby drawing attention and holding the government accountable.
It is moved to draw the attention of the House to a definite, urgent, and serious matter of public importance, which involves the responsibility of the Government Statement II is incorrect: For an adjournment motion to be admitted in the Lok Sabha, it must have the support of at least 50 members, not 100.
Statement III is correct: An adjournment motion requires a prior notice before it is moved in the Lok Sabha.
1. According to the Rules of Procedure and Conduct of Business in Lok Sabha, a member must give a written notice of an adjournment motion, specifying the matter, typically before 10 AM on the day the motion is proposed to be moved.
2. The Speaker then decides whether to allow the motion after considering its urgency and public importance.
The Presiding Officer of the Lok Sabha (Speaker) has the discretion to decide whether an adjournment motion should be admitted.
Statement IV is correct: The adjournment motion is a form of censure of the government. It can be moved by any member of the House and is in the nature of emergency motion of censure upon the Government. The object is to draw the attention of the Government to a matter of urgent public importance so as to criticize the decision of Government in an urgent matter in regard to which a motion or resolution with proper notice will be too late.
It originated in the House of Commons in the United Kingdom, and was introduced in India under the rules of the pre-independent bicameral legislature established under the Government of India Act of 1919.

Hence, the Parliament may by law provide the same and not the President. As per Article 285(1) of the Constitution of India states that, the property of the Union shall, save in so far as Parliament may by law otherwise provide, be exempt from all taxes imposed by a State or by any authority within a State.
Statement II is incorrect: Article 289(1) of the Constitution of India states that 'the property and income of a State shall be exempt from Union taxation'.
But at the same time as per Article 289(2) the Union can impose, or authorising the imposition of, any tax to such extent, if any, as Parliament may by law provide in respect of a trade or business of any kind carried on by, or on behalf of, the Government of a State, or any operations connected therewith, or any property used or occupied for the purposes of such trade or business, or any income accruing or arising in connection therewith.

Q.29) With reference to the 'Motions' in the Parliament of India, consider the following statements:
I. A Censure Motion must specify the specific grounds or charges on which it is moved, whereas a No-Confidence Motion need not specify any reason.

II. A No-Confidence Motion can be moved only against the entire Council of Ministers whereas a Censure Motion can be moved against an individual minister also.
III. A Censure Motion can be moved in any houses of the Parliament whereas No-confidence motion can be moved only in the Lok Sabha.
Which of the statements given above is/are correct?
a) I and II only
b) II and III only
c) I only
d) I, II and III

Ans) a
Exp) Option a is the correct answer.
In the Indian Parliamentary system, both the Censure Motion and the No-Confidence Motion are used by the Opposition to hold the government accountable to the Parliament.
Statement I is correct: A Censure Motion must specify the charges or policies against which it is moved, making reasons mandatory. No-Confidence Motion is moved to test the collective "confidence" of the House in the government. It need not specify any reason for its introduction.
Statement II is correct: Under Article 75, the Council of Ministers is collectively responsible to the Lok Sabha. Thus, a No-Confidence Motion can be moved against the entire Council of Ministers only. A Censure Motion, however, can target specific policies or actions and may be directed against an individual minister.
Statement III is incorrect: The Rajya Sabha does not have a procedure for moving of an adjournment motion, censure motion or no-confidence motion against the Government.
The Censure motion is exclusively introduced in the Lok Sabha and requires specific reasons to be provided.
According to Rule 198 of the Rules of Procedure and Conduct of Lok Sabha, a no-confidence motion can only be introduced in the Lok Sabha, usually, once per session.

Which of the statements given above is/are correct?
a) I only
b) II only
c) Both I and II

Q.32) During the financial year 2025–26, the Government of India decided to launch a new nationwide 'Artificial Intelligence Mission', which was not envisaged at the time of the Budget presentation. Since no funds had been allocated for this purpose earlier, the government sought approval from Parliament to incur expenditure on this 'new service'.
Which of the following grants best describes this situation?
a) Supplementary Grant
b) Additional Grant
c) Excess Grant
d) Exceptional Grant

Ans) b
Exp) Option b is the correct answer.
In the Indian parliamentary system, the Budget acts as the primary financial plan. However, when new requirements arise during the financial year that were not anticipated at the time of the Budget presentation, the government must seek specific types of grants under Article 115 and Article 116 of the Constitution.
Additional Grant : This is granted when a need has arisen during the current financial year for supplementary or additional expenditure upon some 'new service' not contemplated in the budget for that year. Since the 'Artificial Intelligence Mission' is a new initiative not envisaged during the budget, the government must move an Additional Grant.
Knowledge Base:
Supplementary Grant: This is sought when the amount authorized by Parliament through the Appropriation Act for a particular service (already existing in the budget) is found to be insufficient for that year. It does not apply to a 'new service'.

Excess Grant: This is granted when money has already been spent on any service during a financial year in excess of the amount granted for that service in the budget for that year. It is voted by the Lok Sabha after the financial year and requires the prior recommendation of the Public Accounts Committee (PAC).
Exceptional Grant: This is granted for an exceptional purpose which forms no part of the current service of any financial year. It is like a "blank cheque" for unique, one-off requirements.

Q.33) For a 'Cut Motion' to be admissible in the Lok Sabha, it must satisfy certain specific conditions. In this context consider the following conditions:
I. It should relate to only one demand and be stated in specific terms.
II. It must not relate to expenditure charged on the Consolidated Fund of India.
III. It should not raise a question of privilege.
Which of the above condition(s) should be met for the motion to be admissible in the House?
a) III only
b) I and II only
c) II and III only
d) I, II and III

Ans) d
Exp) Option d is the correct answer.
A Cut Motion is a power vested in the members of the Lok Sabha to oppose a demand in the Financial Bill (Budget) submitted by the Government. To prevent the abuse of this power, the Rules of Procedure and Conduct of Business in Lok Sabha lay down strict conditions for its admissibility.
Statement I is correct: A cut motion must be precise and specific. It should relate to only one demand and be stated in clear, unambiguous terms to ensure the debate remains focused on that specific expenditure.
Statement II is correct: Cut motions can only be moved on the "voted" (expenditure made from the Consolidated Fund that requires parliamentary approval) part of the budget. They cannot relate to expenditure charged on the Consolidated Fund of India (such as salaries of the President, Judges, etc.), as these are not submitted to the vote of Parliament under Article 113.
Statement III is correct: A cut motion should not raise a question of privilege. Questions of privilege have their own distinct procedure and cannot be clubbed with the discussion on budgetary demands.

Q.34) Consider the following statements regarding the Joint Sitting of both Houses of Parliament:
I. If an ordinary Bill has been passed by one House and transmitted to the other House and the Bill is rejected by the other House, the President can summon a joint sitting.
II. In the absence of the Speaker of Lok Sabha, the Chairman of Rajya Sabha presides over the joint sitting.
III. The quorum to constitute a joint sitting shall be one tenth of the total number of members of the Houses.
Which of the statements given above is/are correct?
a) I only
b) II and III only
c) I and III only
d) I, II and III

Ans) c

Exp) Option c is the correct answer.

The provision of a Joint Sitting is an extraordinary machinery provided by the Constitution (Article 108) to resolve a deadlock between the two Houses over the passage of a bill.

Statement I is correct: According to Article 108 of the Indian Constitution, If after a Bill has been passed by one House and transmitted to the other House–

(a) the Bill is rejected by the other House; or

(b) the Houses have finally disagreed as to the amendments to be made in the Bill; or

(c) more than six months elapse from the date of the reception of the Bill by the other House without the Bill being passed by it,

The President may summon a joint sitting of the two Houses of Parliament.

This provision is not applicable to money bills and constitutional amendment bills.

Note: In calculating the six months, any period during which the House is prorogued or adjourned for more than four consecutive days is excluded.

Statement II is incorrect: The Speaker of the Lok Sabha presides over a joint sitting. In his/her absence, the Deputy Speaker of the Lok Sabha presides. If the Deputy Speaker is also absent, the Deputy Chairman of the Rajya Sabha presides. Crucially, the Chairman of the Rajya Sabha (Vice-President) cannot preside over a joint sitting because he is not a member of either House of Parliament.

Statement III is correct: The quorum to constitute a joint sitting is one-tenth of the total number of members of the two Houses. This is consistent with the general quorum requirement for individual sessions of the Lok Sabha and Rajya Sabha.

Q.36) In the context of the bicameral Legislature in a State, consider the following:

I. Ratification of a constitutional amendment bill

II. Approval of ordinances issued by the Governor

III. Election of the President of India

IV. Election of representatives of the state in the Rajya Sabha.

In how many of the above cases does the State Legislative Council enjoy equal status with the State Legislative Assembly?

a) Only one
b) Only two
c) Only three
d) None

Ans) a
Exp) Option a is the correct answer.
In the Indian constitutional framework, a bicameral State Legislature places the Legislative Assembly in a position of clear predominance over the Legislative Council. While the Council participates in legislative processes, its role is largely advisory and delaying in nature, unlike the relatively stronger position of the Rajya Sabha at the Union level.
Option I is incorrect. Under Article 368, the ratification of certain Constitutional Amendment Bills requires approval by the State Legislature. However, this power is exercised only by the Legislative Assembly, as the Legislative Council has no role in the ratification process. Therefore, the Legislative Council does not enjoy equal status with the Legislative Assembly in this matter.
Option II is correct. Under Article 213, an ordinance issued by the Governor must be laid before the State Legislature and ceases to operate after six weeks of reassembly unless approved. In a bicameral legislature, this requires the participation of both the Legislative Assembly and the Legislative Council. Hence, both Houses are involved in the process, indicating equal status in this context.
Option III is incorrect. As per Article 54, the President of India is elected by an Electoral College consisting of the elected members of both Houses of Parliament and the elected members of the Legislative Assemblies of the States. Members of the Legislative Council are not included in this Electoral College.
Hence, it does not enjoy equal status with the Legislative Assembly in this matter.
Option IV is incorrect.Under Article 80(4), the representatives of a State in the Rajya Sabha are elected only by the elected members of the Legislative Assembly. The Legislative Council has no role in this electoral process. Therefore, since participation is restricted exclusively to the Assembly, the Legislative Council does not enjoy equal status with the Legislative Assembly in this matter.

Q.37) In the context of Indian Polity, consider the following statements about the Speaker of the House of People:
I. His/her election is held on a date fixed by Speaker Pro-Tem.
II. The President of India administers the oath to the Speaker.
III. S/he resigns from his/her office by writing a resignation letter to the Deputy Speaker of the House.
Which of the statements given above are correct?
a) I and II
b) III only
c) I and III
d) II and III

Ans) b
Exp) Option b is the correct answer.
Under Article 93, the Constitution of India mandates the election of the Speaker and Deputy Speaker as soon as possible after the House is constituted.
Statement I is incorrect: The election date of the Speaker is fixed by the President (and not by the Speaker Pro-Tem) while the election of Deputy Speaker is held on a date fixed by the Speaker. The Speaker is elected by a simple majority in the House. Under Article 94, the Speaker continues in office after the House's dissolution until the new Lok Sabha meets and can resign to the Deputy Speaker or be removed by a majority resolution of all members.

Statement II is incorrect: Unlike other constitutional posts, there is no specific oath administered to the Speaker of the Lok Sabha. The Third schedule of the Constitution of India, which prescribes Forms of Oaths or Affirmations to various constitutional posts including for Member of Parliament, does not prescribe any oaths to Speaker of Lok Sabha.

Statement III is correct: The Speaker remains in office for the duration of the Lok Sabha's term. However, he/she can vacate their position by writing a resignation letter to by writing to the Deputy Speaker of Lok Sabha.

Q.38) With reference to the Committee on Estimates of the Parliament of India, which of the following statements is/are correct?
I. The members of the committee are elected every year by the Lok Sabha from amongst its Members.
II. The committee examines the budget estimates and suggests economies and improvements in public expenditure.
III. When a Minister is a member of the committee, he acts as the ex-officio Chairperson of the committee.
Select the correct answer using the code given below:
a) I and III
b) III only
c) I and II
d) II only

Ans) c

Exp) Option c is the correct answer.

The Estimates Committee is one of the three key financial committees of Parliament. Its roots go back to the colonial period when a financial committee was set up in 1921. After Independence, the present Estimates Committee was constituted in 1950 on the recommendation of John Mathai, the then Finance Minister. The committee works as a post-budget scrutiny body. It does not question policy decisions but focuses on improving efficiency in government spending.

Statement I is correct. The 30 members of the Estimates Committee (all from Lok Sabha) are elected annually by the Lok Sabha. The election is conducted using proportional representation through the single transferable vote system. This ensures fair representation of different political parties in the committee.

Statement II is correct. The core function of the Estimates Committee is to examine the budget estimates after they have been voted by Parliament. The committee suggests ways to achieve economy, efficiency, and administrative reforms in government expenditure. It also recommends alternative policies to improve the use of public funds. Due to this role, it is often called a "continuous economy committee."

Statement III is incorrect. A Minister cannot be a member of the Estimates Committee. If a member is appointed as a Minister, he automatically ceases to be part of the committee. The Chairperson is appointed by the Speaker of the Lok Sabha from among the committee members. The position is usually held by a member of the ruling party.

Q.39) With reference to the Constitution of India, consider the following statements about the State Legislative Assemblies:
I. The Constitution prescribes both the minimum and maximum strength of a Legislative Assembly.
II. As per the Constitution, the salaries and allowances of members of the State Legislature are charged on the Consolidated fund of the state.
III. The term of a Legislative Assembly of a state can be extended by Parliament by law while a Proclamation of Emergency under Article 352 of the Constitution is in operation.
Which of the statements given above are correct?
a) I and II only
b) II and III only
c) I and III only
d) I, II and III

Ans) c
Exp) Option c is the correct answer.
The State Legislative Assembly, as the directly elected chamber, lies at the heart of representative democracy at the State level. Its composition (Article 170) and duration (Article 172) reflect both democratic principles and constitutional safeguards which are essential to ensure the Federal fabric of the Indian Polity.
Statement I is correct. Under Article 170(1), the Constitution fixes the strength of a Legislative Assembly between 60 and 500 members. While Parliament may provide exceptions for smaller states, the constitutional framework clearly defines this range, ensuring uniformity across states.
Statement II is incorrect. According to Article 195 of the Indian Constitution, the members of the Legislative Assembly of a State shall be entitled to receive such salaries and allowances as may from time to time be determined, by the Legislature of the State by law.
Article 202 of the Indian Constitution talks about the expenditure that shall be expenditure charged on the Consolidated Fund of each State such as the emoluments and allowances of the Governor and other expenditure relating to his office, the salaries and allowances of the Speaker and the Deputy Speaker of the Legislative Assembly and, in the case of a State having a Legislative Council, also of the Chairman and the Deputy Chairman of the Legislative Council;
Nowhere it is mentioned that the salaries and allowances of the Members of State Legislature will be charged on the Consolidated Fund of the State.
Statement III is correct. As per Article 172(1), the normal term of a Legislative Assembly is five years. However, during a National Emergency (Article 352), Parliament may extend this term by one year at a time. Importantly, such extension cannot continue beyond six months after the Emergency has ceased.

Q.42) Consider the following statements regarding the procedure for the removal of the Chairman of the Council of States:

I. S/he can be removed from his/her office by a resolution of the Council of States passed by a majority of all the then members of the Council and agreed to by the House of the People.

II. No resolution for his/her removal shall be moved in the House unless at least fourteen days' notice has been given of the intention to move the resolution.

III. The ground for his/her removal has been mentioned in the Constitution.

Which of the statements given above is/are correct?

a) I and II only

b) II only

c) I only

d) I, II and III

Ans) a

Exp) Option a is the correct answer.

The Chairman of the Council of States is the Vice-President of India (ex-officio). Therefore, the procedure for the removal of the Chairman is identical to the procedure for the removal of the Vice-President, as laid down in Article 67(b) of the Constitution.

Statement I is correct: The removal process must be initiated in the Council of States only. The resolution must be passed by the Council of States by a "majority of all the then members" of the House. This is technically known as an Effective Majority (Total strength minus vacancies). After being passed by the Rajya Sabha, it must be agreed to by the Lok Sabha by a simple majority.

Statement II is correct: According to the proviso to Article 67(b), no resolution for his/her removal shall be moved in the House unless at least fourteen days' notice has been given of the intention to move the resolution.

Statement III is incorrect: Unlike the President of India (who can be impeached for "Violation of the Constitution"), the Constitution does not mention any specific ground for the removal of the Vice-President/Chairman of the Rajya Sabha. The House has the discretion to initiate removal for any reason it deems fit.

Q.43) In the context of the Leader of Opposition' (LoP) in the Indian Parliament, consider the following statements:

I. The post of the Leader of the Opposition in the Indian Parliament has been a statutory position since 1952.

II. As per the Salary and Allowances of Leaders of Opposition in Parliament Act, 1977, only a political party which has at least 10% of the strength of the House can claim for the LoP post.

Which of the statements given above is/are correct?

a) I only

b) II only

c) Both I and II

d) Neither I nor II

Ans) d

Exp) Option d is the correct answer.

Statement I is incorrect: The office of the Leader of the Opposition is a statutory office, as it was accorded formal recognition and defined through the Salary and Allowances of Leaders of Opposition in Parliament Act, 1977. Therefore, it has been a statutory post since 1977 and not 1952.

Statement II is incorrect: To be recognized as the official Leader of the Opposition in either House, the leader must belong to the largest opposition party that has at least one-tenth (10%) of the total strength of the House. This requirement is based on the Mavalankar Rule (named after the first Speaker, G.V. Mavalankar) and is necessary for a group to be recognized as a "Parliamentary Party." For example, in the Lok Sabha, a party needs at least 55 members (10% of 543) to claim the post.

But this is as per convention, as per Salary and Allowances of Leaders of Opposition in Parliament Act, 1977 defined the term Leader of the Opposition as "the Leader in that House of the party in opposition to the Government having the greatest numerical strength and recognised as such by the Chairman of the Council of States or the Speaker of the House of the People, as the case may be".

There is nothing as 10% mentioned under the Act.

Q.44) With reference to the Special address by the President under Article 87 of the Indian Constitution, consider the following statements:
I. At the commencement of every session, the President shall address both Houses of Parliament assembled together.
II. The President's address is modeled on the American system, where the President's address is followed by a Motion of Thanks.
Which of the statements given above is/are correct?
a) I only
b) II only
c) Both I and II
d) Neither I nor II

Ans) d
Exp) Option d is the correct answer.
Statement I is incorrect: Article 87(1) of the Constitution provides for a special address by the President at the commencement of the first session after each general election and at the commencement of the first session of each year. This address is prepared/drafted by the Council of Ministers. It outlines the policies and programmes of the government for the preceding year (achievements) and the ensuing year (future vision).
The Original Constitution required the President to address both Houses of Parliament at the commencement of every session. The Constitution (First Amendment) Act, 1951, amended this provision.
Statement II is incorrect: The President's address in India is actually modeled on the "Speech from the Throne" in the British Parliament, rather than the American system. In the United States, the President delivers the "State of the Union" address, but the procedural context and the "Motion of Thanks" mechanism are distinctively British parliamentary traditions.

Directions for the following 2 (two) items:
Read the following passage and answer the items that follow the passage. Your answers to these items should be based on the passage only

Passage - 1

For decades, India's economic script revolved around steel, silicon and seeds. We measured our progress by the length of our highways, tonnage of our wheat and volume of our software exports. Today, the orange economy signals a new hue in India's growth imagination. When a nation exports its imagination, it stops competing on the basis of low-cost labour and starts leading on the basis of ideas. Yet this shift is not without its tensions. While the orange economy offers high-paying jobs, there is a risk of a widening divide. The creative boom is currently concentrated in urban clusters, bypassing much of rural India. Furthermore, structural hurdles such as funding gaps, a regulatory maze and a lack of physical infrastructure remain. Only if these barriers are dismantled, 'Made in India' will give way to something more powerful: 'Imagined in India'.

Q.46) Which one of the following statements best reflects the most logical, rational and pragmatic message conveyed by the author of the passage?
a) Policymakers must ensure that the gains of the orange economy are equitably distributed between rural and urban India.
b) Greater government investment will be vital for expanding the orange economy.
c) If the structural challenges within India's orange economy are addressed, the sector can position India as a global force shaping ideas.
d) The expansion of the orange economy will improve living standards by creating high-paying jobs.

Ans) c
Exp) Option c is the correct answer.
Statement a is incorrect. The passage states "While the orange economy offers high-paying jobs, there is a risk of a widening divide. The creative boom is currently concentrated in urban clusters, bypassing much of rural India." However, statement a does not best reflect the most logical, rational and pragmatic message conveyed by the author of the passage as it highlights only one of the issues with the orange economy.
Statement b is incorrect. While the passage states "structural hurdles such as funding gaps, a regulatory maze and a lack of physical infrastructure remain", statement b does not best reflect the most logical, rational and pragmatic message conveyed by the author of the passage as it does not provide an unbiased evaluation of the orange economy.
Statement c is correct. It best reflects the most logical, rational and pragmatic message conveyed by the author of the passage as it highlights the potential of the orange economy while highlighting the need of addressing the challenges faced by it.
Statement d is incorrect. While the passage states that orange economy creates high paying jobs, it is silent on its effect on living standards. Therefore, it is not the most logical, rational and pragmatic message conveyed by the author of the passage

Q.47) With reference to the above passage, the following assumptions have been made:
I. Economic growth in the modern world is no longer driven solely by the traditional sectors of agriculture, manufacturing, and IT.
II. Investment in the orange economy will pave the way for India to become a developed nation.

Which of the assumptions is/are valid?
a) I only
b) II only
c) Both I and II
d) Neither I nor II

Ans) a
Exp) Option a is the correct answer.
Statement I is correct. The passage states "For decades, India's economic script revolved around steel, silicon and seeds. We measured our progress by the length of our highways, tonnage of our wheat and volume of our software exports. Today, the orange economy signals a new hue in India's growth imagination." Therefore, statement I is correct.
Statement II is incorrect. While the passage states that investment in orange economy will boost India's growth, it is silent on claiming that India would become a developed country by investing in orange economy. Therefore, the assumption is outside the scope of the passage and thus incorrect.

Q.48) How many distinct 9-digit numbers can be formed by rearranging the digits of the number 220005577 such that even digits occupy odd positions and odd digits occupy even positions?
a) 24
b) 36
c) 60
d) 120

Ans) a
Exp) Option a is the correct answer.
The digits of 220005577 are:

I. Even digits: 2, 2, 0, 0, 0
II. Odd digits: 5, 5, 7, 7

In a 9-digit number:

- Odd positions are: 1, 3, 5, 7, 9 → total 5 positions
- Even positions are: 2, 4, 6, 8 → total 4 positions

Since even digits must occupy odd positions and odd digits must occupy even positions:

- the 5 even digits must go into the 5 odd positions
- the 4 odd digits must go into the 4 even positions

Arrange the even digits in odd positions
Even digits are: 2, 2, 0, 0, 0
But the number must be a 9-digit number, so the digit in the 1st position cannot be 0.
Since only 2 is non-zero among the even digits, the 1st position must be 2.
Now the remaining odd positions 3, 5, 7, 9 must be filled with: 2, 0, 0, 0
Number of distinct arrangements: 4! / 3! = 4
Arrange the odd digits in even positions
Odd digits are: 5, 5, 7, 7
These are to be placed in positions 2, 4, 6, 8.
Number of distinct arrangements: 4! / (2! × 2!) = 6
Total number of valid numbers
Total required numbers: 4 × 6 = 24

Q.49) Keshav can do 30% of work in 54 days; Raghav can do a third of work in 70 days; Sandhya can do 35% of work in 105 days and Vikas can do 15% of the work in 30 days. All four are assigned to complete a work separately. Who will complete the work last?
a) Keshav
b) Vikas
c) Raghav
d) Sandhya

Ans) d
Exp) Option d is the correct answer
If Keshav can do 30% of the work in 54 days, then he can do 100% of the work in (54 / 30) * 100 = 180 days.
For Raghav, if he can do a third of the work in 70 days, then he can do 100% of the work in 3 * 70 = 210 days.
For Sandhya, if she can do 35% of the work in 105 days, then she can do 100% of the work in (105 / 35) * 100 = 300 days.
For Vikas, if he can do 15% of the work in 30 days,
then he can do 100% of the work in (30 / 15) * 100 = 200 days.
We can see clearly that Sandhya would complete the work last.

Q.50) In the following question, select the missing number from the given series, 34, 69, 140, 283, ?, 1145
a) 430
b) 525
c) 320
d) 570

Ans) d
Exp) Option d is the correct answer
The series follows the following pattern:
The previous number x 2 +1
The previous number x 2 + 2
The previous number x 2 + 3 and so on thus we can see:
34x 2 + 1 = 69
69x2 + 2 = 140
140x2 + 3 = 283
283x2 +4 = 570
